Building the Community

Since 1969, the Oklahoma City Community Foundation has served as the community's steward for endowment. We work with donors and organizations to build endowments that will benefit our community both today and well into the future.

Our donors are as varied as the funds they create. People of all ages and financial resources utilize our expertise and proven investment performance to create endowments that meet their specific charitable goals. Whether it's benefiting the arts or social services or youth-based programs, our donors know we will ensure their charitable goodwill will continue forever.

Our new location at 1000 N. Broadway Avenue will help us better serve donors and continue to build the community's endowment. Let us help you help your community. Stop by for a visit or contact us at 405/235-5603.
